State Of Michigan Faces $72,900,000 Deficit By 1952

LANSING — (P) — Governor Williams handed the legislature the sad news today — a 1951-52 budget which presumes a state general fund deficit of $72,000,000 to $100,000,000 by June of 1952.

State Controller Robert F. Steadman, who drew the budget and outlined it to newsmen, said it called for expenditures of $294,900,000 from the general fund in the fiscal year starting next June 30.

Expenses Growing

Against this, Steadman figured state income at $265,800,000 for that year, or deficit for the year of $29,100,000.

And, he added, this includes no money for civilian defense, or highways, which the governor wants to partially finance out of general fund money.

Neither does it include the $27,000,000 in additional funds for this year, which Williams asked from the legislature Monday. The $27,000,000 figure included $10,900,000 for construction jobs already committed, $9,000,000 for highways and $8,000,000 — plus

Veteran Loses Frosted Limbs Amputations Started At Battle Creek

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. — (P) — Still facing the loss of at least part of both hands, Pvt. Hubert Reeves underwent a "very successful" amputation of both feet today.

Doctors at Percy Jones hospital said the condition of the frost-bitten Korean veteran was "excellent" after nearly three hours on the operating table.

As soon as he recovers sufficiently, surgeons said, they will remove all of the blackened fingers of Reeves' left hand and up to the second or third knuckle of his right hand. The rector was removed just above the ankles.

Pvt. Reeves, 19-year-old Joliet, Ill., youth, suffered severe frostbite as he lay wounded one night on a frigid Korean battlefield.

His mother, Mrs. D. Hubert Reeves, waited outside the operating room, showing no outward concern.

"If my son can stand it, I can," she declared.

Maj. Chester H. Davis, Percy Jones public information officer, said Reeves would not be classified as the Korean war's second quadruple amputee. One soldier already has lost all of both feet and both hands.

Student Swims Icy East Lansing River To Collect $10 Bet

EAST LANSING — Charles Crownover, Jackson freshman at Michigan State college, won $10 the hard way last night.

For a $10 bet Crownover, a backstroke on the freshman team, swam across the ice-filled Red Cedar river while the mercury shivered at 18° above zero.

Robert Pearce, Coldwater sophomore, and Don Tunis, Saginaw freshman, put up $5 each to support the incentive.

Thief Blames Dance

DETROIT — (P) — Matthew Walker, 21, had a novel explanation Thursday when he was arrested on a charge of breaking down an apartment door and stealing a man's suit. He told police he was "learning a new dance step and lost my balance and fell through."

Gambling Syndicate Offers To Pay Tax But Has No Books

MIAMI, Fla. — (P) — The S & G gambling syndicate of Miami Beach says it wants to file 1950 income tax returns—but has no records.

The syndicate books are in custody of Dade county solicitor Robert R. Taylor. They were seized by the grand jury last fall and used as a basis for indictment of S & G members.

Ben Cohen, syndicate attorney, yesterday asked criminal court Judge Ben Willard to allow S & G auditors to study the records so they could file returns.

"You'll have to work out something with the solicitor," the judge replied.

Rotary Clubs Are Baffled By Ban Of Vatican Kiwanis And Lions Included In Edict

VATICAN CITY — (P) — A Vatican decree forbidding Catholic clergy to join Rotary International, it was explained today, applies equally to such similar organizations as Kiwanis, the Lions and other civic groups.

A member of the congregation of the sacred office, which drew up the decree, said the document reiterated the church's preference that Catholic laymen and women associate themselves with Catholic church-sponsored or recommended organizations, such as the Knights of Columbus.

Clergy Must Resign

The member said the decree, published yesterday in the Vatican's "L'Osservatore Romano," is a general directive and neither a condemnation of Rotary nor an impediment to membership of Catholic laymen in the organization.

The decree was approved by Pope Pius XII, who is perfect of the congregation, one of 11 such bodies that govern church affairs.

The decree, this source said, is explicit insofar as it regards clergymen. They cannot be members of Rotary or other organizations having a "worldly" character—or attend the meetings.

Any clergymen who is a member of Rotary, this source said, must resign from the club. The implication of the decree, the source added, was that similar action must be taken by clergymen who are members of Kiwanis, or like groups.

Bishops Decide

The decree was described as a general rule open, insofar as Catholic laymen are concerned, to local interpretation by bishops.

Thus, should a Rotary club in some particular area be considered to be influenced by Masonry, local bishops might decide to ask or order Catholics not to associate themselves with it.

Two factors weighed in forbidding clergymen membership in Rotary: attendance at its meetings, the Vatican source said.

First, it was the organization's "worldly" character. Second, its

Washington Confident Of Peace This Year

Editors Note: The great buildup — meaning the mobilization of America's vast resources to meet the challenges of Communist aggression — is as much a part of the U. S. scene these days as the great debate over foreign policy. To survey this scene and report his findings — in various key areas — the Associated Press has assigned Relman Morin. spirit of panic. There is no disposition, this time, to call millions of men to arms—and then have them standing around with brooksticks for want of real weapons.

In the National Production Authority (NPA), which determines the requirements of materials for national defense, the wheels are moving. You hear both stories . . . That the program is going too fast and will upset the civilian economy "which is just what the Russians want" . . . And that it's going too slow to meet the deadlines.

In either case, the average Washington observer agrees that NPA is far ahead in administrative efficiency, of its World

Army To Modify Korea Censoring Curbs On War News Called Camouflage

NEW YORK — (P) — Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Army chief of information, indicated yesterday that censoring of news dispatches from Korea will be improved after "the censorship machinery gets adjusted."

Similarly, before he left for his new post, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower expressed some reasonableness. He told a group of leaders that if he found anything in Europe to change his attitude he would immediately say so.

That approach is reflected in the planning for mobilization and

No Spirit of Panic

WASHINGTON — (P) — A few people have fled to the hills from Washington, in fear of being bombed (or something), but the capital as a whole is reasonably confident about the chances of peace this year.

The shades of opinion run, as always, from dark blue to bright rose.

In between is the widest band of all, compounded of a good, straight look at the dangers but a belief that they are not acute to the point of a three-bell alarm.

Some top officials in sensitive listening posts in government say they see "no evidence yet that they (the Russians) are set for a major move."

Senate Unseats 2 Ex-Convicts Detroit Democrats Ousted In Lansing

LANSING — (P) — The Michigan Senate yesterday unseated two Democratic senators-elect because they had served prison terms.

The chamber vacated the seats of Charles C. Diggs, a Negro, and Anthony J. Wilkowsky, long political leaders in the huge Polish community of Wayne county.

Diggs still is on parole from a sentence for conspiring to corrupt the legislature by bribery in the 1941 Senate. Wilkowsky has been seated by two Senates since he was convicted 15 years ago for altering ballots in the 1934 secretary of state recount conducted by the ill-fated "rump" legislature.

Governor Williams said he would order special elections at the time of the regular April elections to fill the vacancies.

He added "The Senate has exercised a power which belongs to it alone and is not subject to review by the governor or the courts. Only the people can pass judgment on the Senate action. As a citizen, it seems regrettable to me that thousands of voters are thus deprived of representation at a time of critical decision."

Diggs said he probably would run for the Senate again in the special election and declared "I'll be elected, too." Wilkowsky, crushed by the Senate vote, said he doubted whether he would again seek a legislative seat.

Supply Road Blocked

But the American position near Wonju still was in grave peril.

Another Communist force swept wide around the American line and set up a road block on a vital supply highway 31 miles southeast of Wonju.

Allied Barrage Drives 6,000 Reds From Hills

TOKYO — (P) — Allied air attacks and artillery barrages drove off a 6,000-man Red Korean force today after it seized a dominant height and poured withering fire into American lines just south of Wonju.

An A. P. field dispatch said the two North Korean regiments at nightfall were disappearing into the hills.

With the flight of the Reds, Allied units moved back into the commanding hill.

Line Stays Intact

The Allies' northernmost line in Central Korea — extending in horseshoe shape within less than two miles of Wonju — remained intact.

Eleven B-29 bombers cascading heavy explosives in close support of the embattled Americans aided in routing the enemy.

Final Truce Offer For Chinese Reds Voted In UN Today

LAKE SUCCESS — (P) — The United Nations voted today on a final peace bid to Communist China, offering a political conference on far eastern problems in return for a cease-fire in Korea.

The United States accepted the plan. Russia, in what seemed to be a stall for time, expressed coolness toward it.

No More Overtures

Non-Communist spokesmen made it plain that if Peiping rejects this offer, the Reds can expect no further overtures and the war will go on.

Diplomats here held little hope that China's Communists would agree to the proposals. They felt, however, the effort was worth while if only as a demonstration that the U. N. had explored the last possible avenue to peace.

The five-point plan, drafted by cease-fire commission members Nasrollah Entezami of Iran, Sir Benegal N. Rau of India and Canada's Lester B. Pearson, will be put before the 60-nation political committee in a resolution this afternoon.

People May Choose

The new plan outlined these points:

1. An immediate cease fire with safeguards "ensuring that it will not be used as a screen for mounting

Fascinated By Ropes, Boy Hangs Himself

BEULAH, Mich.—(R) An 11-year-old boy with a fascination for ropes accidentally hanged himself while playing yesterday.

The body of Morris Long, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Long, of near Thompsonville, was found hanging in a pig pen.

Sherrif Fay W. Bryan of Benzie county said the boy apparently had climbed up a plank and slipped, tangling the rope with which he was playing about his neck.

Winter or summer, hot or cold, the bobwhite rarely strays outside a ten-mile radius of his native hatch.

Towey Returns To Commission

Powers Doctor Fills Lansing Vacancy

LANSING — (P)— Governor Williams filled two vacancies on the Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium commission today.

He appointed Dr. G. Thomas McKean of Grosse Pointe Farms to succeed Dr. E. J. O'Brien of Detroit for a term expiring, Oct. 9, 1953. Dr. John Towey Powers was named to succeed Dr. Nicola Gigante of Detroit for a term expiring next Oct. 9.

Dr. Gigante resigned last month in protest against the governor's failure to reappoint Dr. O'Brien, a veteran of the commission. A previous appointee to succeed Dr. O'Brien, Dr. Rupert C. L. Markoe of Detroit, refused to serve.

Dr. McKean is a graduate of Harvard University and a chest disease consultant for the Veterans' Administration.

Dr. Towey, a graduate of Northwestern University, has been superintendent of Pinecrest Sanatorium at Powers for 29 years, is area consultant for the Veterans' Association on TB and a director of the National Tuberculosis Association.

At the time of his resignation Dr. Gigante accused the governor of "playing politics" and failing to reappoint Dr. O'Brien, a member for 22 years, because he approved a Kalamazoo site for the proposed southwest Michigan sanatorium.

Since that time legislators backing the Kalamazoo site and those favoring a site in or near Benton Harbor have staged heated arguments on the floor of the House of Representatives and the Benton Harbor faction has asked for a review of the Kalamazoo choice.

STURDY SOIL

Ruleau Given Prison Term

Shepley, Fitzgerald Get Probation

George Ruleau, 25, of Manistique, today was held in county jail at Escanaba and will be taken to state branch prison at Marquette to begin serving term of one to two years for resisting an officer, to which he was sentenced yesterday in circuit court by Judge Glenn W. Jackson.

A plea of guilty to the charge was entered by Ruleau this week. The charge was an outgrowth of his arrest by officers of the Gladstone city police department.

The court recommended the minimum sentence of one year.

Judge Jackson sentenced Dean Shepley and Harry W. Fitzgerald of Trenary Rd. 1 to a three year probationary term after they entered a plea of guilty to burglary in the night time. They are also to serve 30 days in jail, and within 30 days make restitution of $50 each to Victor Williamson of Trenary, from whom they stole chickens and other articles.

The court adjourned yesterday afternoon until Monday, when jurors will report and hearings will begin in jury civil cases.

Scheduled for trial are the following jury civil cases:

Miss Annie T. Kelly vs. Red Owl Stores, Inc., a suit for $30,000 allegedly sustained in personal injuries in a fall in the Red Owl store in Escanaba; Fred Menard vs. Andrew Eckman; and Bohumir Kyv vs. Lawrence C. Girard and the Escanaba Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Chambers Back Two Airlines

McGinn To Represent U. P. At Hearing

MENOMINEE, Mich.—The Menominee Chamber of Commerce yesterday contributed $50 to a U.P. pool to defray expenses of Attorney Denis McGinn, Escanaba, at a Civil Aeronautics Board hearing in Washington on Jan. 22 on application of Wisconsin Central Airlines for renewal of its certificate over its route, which includes the U.P.

Request for the contribution was made by Robert G. Murphy, chairman of the Chamber's airport committee and head of the U.P. Air Transportation Committee composed of representatives of U.P. cities served by both Wisconsin Central and Nationwide Airlines.

ESCANABA C-C AIDS

The board of directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, at its meeting held yesterday afternoon, appropriated $50 to pay the expenses of Atty. Denis McGinn at the CAB hearing in Washington.

Murphy told the board renewal of a certificate for airline service was of prime importance to the U.P. and that a joint brief for the U.P. cities affected had been filed with the CAB by his committee. He said it was equally important to have the U.P. represented by legal counsel at the hearing.

He said he had written the Chambers of Commerce in the U.P. cities served by the airlines, the U.P. Development Bureau and the Marinette Chamber of Commerce asking each for a contribution of $50 to a common pool.

He said accounting will be made of the Washington expense and any surplus will be returned to the donors proportionately.

Murphy said McGinn had been associated with the U.P. committee since its organization in Iron Mountain in 1948 and had a wide background of experience in the U.P. air transportation picture.

He said McGinn gave a week of his time and legal services at the Nationwide hearing in Marquette last January and also went to Washington to appear at the oral argument in Nationwide's case before the CAB. McGinn donated his services and paid his own expenses on both occasions, Murphy said.

Position of the U.P. Air Transportation Committee and that of the airport committee of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce is unchanged with regard to the Nationwide case. Murphy said, and that airline is favored over Wisconsin Central on proposed service between Michigan's two peninsulas. He said the CAB had not yet decided the across-the-lake case and would not until the Wisconsin Central renewal action was heard. He said the two cases are now tied together, making it doubly important to the U.P. to be represented at the Washington hearing.

Murphy reported today he had been advised that the Ishpeming Chamber of Commerce, meeting Monday, had authorized payment of $50 to the U.P. fund. Other Chambers are expected to act on the matter this week.

Capital Punishment Urged Again, But Would It Deter Murderers?

THE rape-murder of Carolyn Brown by two Kalamazoo county punks has kindled a new effort to return capital punishment in Michigan. Rep. Eugene Betz of Monroe has announced that he will introduce a bill in the state legislature to provide for electrocution of convicted first degree murderers.

Rep. Betz who has twice made unsuccessful attempts to get legislative approval of capital punishment in Michigan has argued that life imprisonment sentences do not really mean what they imply. Murderers, he has pointed out, are being let out of prison after serving as little as 10 to 13 years.

The law could be changed, of course, to provide assurance that murderers would be confined to longer periods of time, including all of their natural life. But Betz does not want that. He wants murderers executed.

Michigan has been without capital punishment for 104 years. The murder rate in this state is no higher than the average of all the states, and it is lower than many states that have the death penalty for convicted murderers. The records simply do not support the oft-quoted contention that

Britain And France Are Living In Past

THE British know that Red Chinese soldiers have killed and are killing Britons in Korea and that rebels who may get financial and other aid from Communist China are killing British fighting men in Malaya.

The French are thoroughly aware that the Communist Viet Minh forces in Indo-China, which have been battling a French army there for five years, are supplied with weapons and training by the Red Chinese.

Yet the British believe it is proper and sensible to maintain a relatively thriving trade with the Chinese Communists through the British crown colony at Hong Kong. This trade most certainly includes materials which are of value to the Chinese war machine.

And the other day the French were reported to have shipped nearly 140,000 tons of steel rails to Red China. Any child knows the role played by transport in fueling an army with supplies.

The British are quite cool—one might say indifferent—to the fate of Formosa, a rich island which might conceivably have prime strategic importance in keeping powerfully industrial Japan out of Red hands. Yet there are plenty of signs Britain would howl in anguish if Hong Kong were threatened.

What does all this mean?

Plainly, it indicates that both the French and British value Chinese trade so highly they consider it worth the lives of a substantial number of their soldiers.

We all know the British live by exploring. Looking at Britain's economy from the outside and from this distance, it may not be possible to judge fairly how vital the Chinese trade is to that country. But one may at least question whether Britain might not find some substitute for commerce which continues at the price of British blood.

The same may be said for France, which is less a world trading power but nevertheless maintains an active inter-change of goods within its colonial empire and with nations on the fringe of that empire. Does the profit from 140,000 tons of rails show when cast in the balance against the bodies of French dead in Indo-China?

More than a few observers of postwar life in France and Britain believe that more than just economic advantage leads these countries to cling desperately to this trade. They believe intense national pride is a great factor, especially in Britain.

Britain already has witnessed a vast shrinkage of her pre-war empire. She has not adjusted to the fact, has not reconciled herself to the drastic curtailment of her world power. She still tends to think of herself in the old terms. Any further shrinkage is viewed with pain.

France, too, hates to face the thought of diminishing global power. She prefers to imagine that past glories are still hers.

If these observers are right, then the British and French, who are supposed to share the touted tradition of European realism, are showing themselves to be highly unrealistic. Failure to come to grips with reality could be a big reason why their moral resolve is so weak in the present world dilemma.

For surely a lack of moral conviction lies at the root of any decision to trade with a nation which is killing your citizens with ruthless calculation.

One thing wrong with a lot of homes is that too many couples think that a pair beats a full house.

Bridge Report

By Gordon Martin

MARTIN

When you're home from work and weary from your efforts of the day, it's a time the little woman has a lot of things to say. She would tell you of the children and the way they have behaved, how it costs to run the household, and the chores at which she slaved. But of all reports she gives you, as the shades of evening fall, it's the one about her game of bridge that really tops them all:

"Oh we had the nicest game and it was fun to entertain, just a cozy little foursome—Hattie, Helen, me, and Jane. And I had a lot of awful cards, though once I bid a slam, but my partner had a void in hearts, which left me in a jam. But I did the best with what I had, and when the game was done, I was really very happy with the twenty cents I won."

Then she's surely got you baffled and you ask how she could win, when her cards were mostly bad and when she took it on the chin. "Why," she proudly says, "it's simple, if you play the way we do, and I don't know why I bother to review the bids for you. It may be I'm not the smartest and I'm surely not a pro, but I got the twenty cents because I won the prize for low."

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WAshington—President Truman isn't likely to move on it, but some of his genuine well-wishers have been dropping discreet hints that the most important thing he can do to bring about national unity is appoint two top Republicans to his cabinet—including possibly Governor Dewey as secretary of state.

Most unfortunate difficulty about the current bickering over foreign policy is the reaction abroad. All over Europe there has been indecision and dismay. The recent foreign-policy controversies came on top of the Korean disaster, also on top of the president's music-critic letter, both of which increased lack of confidence among our allies.

Most people don't realize it, but the music-critic letter was published all the way from Africa to Norway. To the man in the street it may have been humorous, but to the prime ministers and foreign ministers of Europe, it aroused fear that the head of the United States government might lose his temper, not merely over a music-critic but over a potential enemy, and plunge the world into war.

For these and other reasons, some of the top democrats in Washington ardently hope for more unity, even if it means surrounding the president with a few Republicans.

They recall how President Roosevelt increased unity before Pearl Harbor by bringing two leading Republicans—Henry L. Stimson and Frank Knox—into his cabinet as secretary of war and secretary of the navy.

And while there is not too much personal enthusiasm about Governor Dewey in Democratic circles, he is recognized as a man of real ability and deep sincerity as far as his country is concerned.

Furthermore, it is believed that Secretary of State Acheson would be glad to bow out in favor of Dewey in the interest of national unity.

Acheson and Dewey have been conferring privately for the last six months, and several times Dewey has come to Acheson's support. Finally Acheson had privately hoped to leave the state department, though he does not want to do so under fire.

NAVAL COMEBACK

It was just about a year ago that the most harassed and criticized man in Washington was Secretary of the Navy Francis Matthews.

At that time, the admirals were up in arms over unification and one admiral had to be relieved. Captain Crommelin was campaigning for a super airplane carrier. A secret propaganda agency in the navy was shooting out malice against the air forces. And Matthews was branded as a fresh-water executive from Omaha whose knowledge of shipping was confined to mud scours on the Missouri river.

However, the political pendulum has a habit of swinging into Washington, and today Matthews is riding the crest of the wave.

Secret of his comeback was keeping quiet, being a good sport and working closely with the efficient new executive whom he picked to be chief of naval operations—Adm. Forrest Sherman.

Today the navy has scored some real triumphs in the Korean war, especially the evacuation of Hungnam where not a single life was lost. And the much-debated super airplane carrier which the navy so much wanted is to be built after all.

Note—Admiral Sherman, who was Matthews' personal choice to be chief of naval operations, has been so fair with the army and air force that, if General Bradley should be promoted to come White House chief of staff, Sherman would probably succeed him as chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

These charges are ominously like those that preceded Chinese intervention in Korea. These were preceded by the training of Ho Chi-minh's battalions on Chinese soil, and by a heavy increase in material supplied to Ho from China. Peiping has 200,000 Chinese troops poised in South China, 100 miles east of Indo-China. Ho's forces have Chinese artillerymen and technicians. A Russian military mission is reported at Nanning to supervise military operations of these forces.

Plainly, it indicates that both the French and British value Chinese trade so highly they consider it worth the lives of a substantial number of their soldiers.

We all know the British live by exploring. Looking at Britain's economy from the outside and from this distance, it may not be possible to judge fairly how vital the Chinese trade is to that country. This housewife has just baked a plate. She uses a new ceramic kit which is right for her kitchen oven. She fires her designs to a durable hardness in the oven, lets them cool, and removes them.

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The next time you have guests in for dinner, you can bake both a cake and the plate on which to serve it at the same time. The trick is in a new hobby kit, one of several new hobby kits that can be used at home, with an ordinary kitchen oven and without expensive additional equipment.

Miracle clay, that can be fired to a durable hardness in a kitchen oven, is the means of making bowls, ashtrays, vases, figurines and ceramic jewelry in your own kitchen. The companion to this clay is a new liquid glaze that gets its sparkling finish in the kitchen oven, too.

The liquid glaze makes it possible to apply original designs and monograms to glassware as well as to the dinner and chinaware. You might, for example, use the clay on inexpensive tumblers. When the design is thoroughly dried, the glass goes into the oven at a 250 degree temperature to harden into a colorful, lasting glaze that won't wash off.

The ceramic kit, a figurine kit, a tile kit and clay modeling kit are the brain children of Alexander J. Ettl, himself a well-known sculptor. He felt that there weren't enough hobbies a housewife could follow while she kept an eye on home and children. He decided to supply the right answers.

"Take my tile kit, for example," he says. "It's fun but it's practical, too. The kit has three tiles and fourteen glazes. The tiles, once they're decorated, can be used as hot plates or in framed wall panels."

But Ettl had other ideas in mind when he created his hobby kits. He feels that housewives frequently are creative but that they never have a chance to prove themselves. There are too many demands on their time and money. He felt that if they were given a chance to do something creative right at home, in their own kitchens, it would fill a need.

"A novice can produce free standing animal and human figures by using wire armatures as skeletons for the figures," Ettl explains. "So I've developed just such wire skeletons for a modeling clay kit. Thus, the proportions and position of the figure are determined before any modeling is done. To create a figure, the clay is added to the armature by using wire armatures as skeletons for the figures."

City Has Small 1950 Fire Loss

Report Is Released By Local Fire Chief

Manistique had another year of small fire loss in 1950, it is reported by Elmer Boal, local fire chief.

The loss from 59 fires in the city totaled $4,650.18. The rural fire loss from nine fires amounted to $2,600.

City fires included two auto fires, 25 chimney fires, 17 grass fires, and 15 other blazes including damage to three homes.

Rural fires included one home, three cars, two chimney fires, two barn fires and one grass fire.

One of the car fires, occurring Oct. 16, resulted in the total loss of an auto belonging to Jack Hugson. Two barn fires, one at the Wilbert Tanguay farm, Cooks, on Feb. 27 and the other June 24 at the Martin Holmberg place, Manistique township, caused a loss of $1,200. The last rural fire of the year destroyed the Ray Smith home and contents on the Town Line road on Dec. 29. The loss was estimated at $1,400.

Nazis Used Speeches

For Senator Taft and the others this should cause at least a moment of hesitation. In 1938, '39 and '40 the speeches and statements of America Firsters were being prominently displayed in the official newspapers of Nazi Germany, conspicuously in Hitler's Voelkischer Beobachter.

They were put out to the German public because they confirmed the private convictions of the Nazi leaders. Hitler and the men around him were convinced that Americans were so deeply divided they could never be unified to resist the Nazi scheme of world aggression. Or if resistance should come, it would be after Nazism had made such extensive conquest in Europe and in South America that it would be too late.

The public memory is short. Nevertheless, it must have come as a surprise to many to find Taft saying in his senate speech, "there is sufficient evidence of a deter-

Retailers Plug For War Work

Urge Brochure On Local Facilities

Approval of a program designed to induce industrial firms with war contracts to utilize available plant space in Manistique was voiced at a meeting of the retail division of the Top O' Lake Michigan Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

Recommendations of the division were to be presented to the chamber's board of directors at a meeting last night.

Retailers agreed that plant space is available here, that the community has good transportation facilities, and that needed skills in manufacturing processes are locally for hire. They recommended that a survey of local facilities be made immediately, that a brochure embodying survey findings be published, and that such brochures be distributed to plants in the mid-west having war contract work. They also recommended that a drive for funds to finance the venture be undertaken.

William H. Frederick, chamber secretary, reported to the group on a meeting of the chamber's industrial division last week at which Albert J. Gazvoda, of Hancock, field supervisor for the Michigan Employment Service, discussed the possibility of obtaining more industrial employment for Manistique.

In the opinion of Gazvoda, Manistique at the present time has more to offer war contract industry than any community in the Upper Peninsula, Frederick reported.

The retail group also recommended that new resort folders be published and that they contain advertising space purchased by county firms and resort establishments.

Reports also were given on the Christmas lighting contest and the Santa Claus program in early December by Ernest Eckland and O. J. Schuster, chairman respectively of the two events.

E. E. Cookson presided at the meeting.

Doctors, Dentists 50 And Under Must Register January 15

Four doctors and one dentist in Manistique are affected by the regulation.

PTA Discusses Consolidation

Hiawatha Unit Has Meeting Wednesday

The matter of school consolidation was discussed at length by the Hiawatha township Parent-Teacher association at its meeting Wednesday evening at the Aldrich school.

Mrs. Clayton Reid introduced the topic, stating that at a recent conference with the Manistique board of education the matter of consolidating with the city system was explored.

She also briefly mentioned advantages of consolidation, either with the city or by construction of a township consolidated school. Other members of the organization also took part in the discussion which followed. This was the first time that the matter had been formally before the group, it was reported.

Prada's Analysis

The New York Times dispatch from Moscow puts emphasis on a quotation from Prada's own analysis of the Taft speech. This stresses the statement by Taft that he sees "no unquestionable proofs" that the Soviet Union intended to begin war with the United States.

The group decided to sponsor a card party and dance at the Hiawatha Grange hall as a polio fund benefit. The dates will be announced later.

Mrs. Lawrence Aldrich and Mrs. Arnold Henrichsen were named co-chairmen in charge of dance arrangements, and Mrs. Henning Mattson and Mrs. Phyllis McRae were appointed to take charge of the card party plans.

Mrs. Lawrence Hambeau was selected to supervise ticket sales.

Members of the PTA were invited by Supervisor Agner Dehlin to attend an open meeting of voters at the Hiawatha town hall Saturday night to discuss the possibilities of a community building.

The group also was invited to attend a meeting of the Lincoln PTA in Manistique in February.

Hostesses for the February meeting, to be held at the Heights school, were announced as follows:

Mrs. John McGurk, Mrs. Gust Anderson, Mrs. Lawrence Hambeau and Mrs. Margaret Needham. The program committee for the session will be composed of Mrs. Phyllis McRae, Mrs. Henry Blandford, Mrs. Erick Tornberg, Mrs. Maynard Blandford and Mrs. Reuben Byers and Mrs. Wellington Brock.

Tony Zale To Referee Golden Gloves Fights

Tony Zale, twice holder of the world's middleweight boxing championship, will referee the opening night's matches in the Upper Peninsula Golden Gloves boxing tournament in Escanaba Friday, Feb. 9, the tournament management announced today.

Zale, a product of Golden Gloves competition, will come to Escanaba with his manager, B. R. Cole, who will be one of the judges in the first night's matches.

The Gary, Ind., "Man of Steel" has long been an adherent of amateur boxing and he has appeared at amateur boxing shows all over the country to lend his name and prestige in the promotion of the sport. At present Zale is trainer of the huge Catholic Youth Organization boxing program in Chicago in which more than 1,000 young boxers are participating. He also operates a bowling establishment in his home town of Gary.

Torrid Series

Last week Zale refereed the boxing program at Michigan State College in which Spartan boxers competed with a service team. The previous week he accompanied a Chicago CYO team to Kansas City.

Zale won the middleweight championship of the world in 1941. He entered military service but returned to the ring upon his discharge. Then followed the torrid championship series with Rocky Graziano in which Zale lost his title, won it back and then lost it again to the hard-punching Graziano.

Zale is the second world's champion to appear in Escanaba in connection with the U. P. Golden Gloves tournament. Before the war Barney Ross, welter-weight titleholder, refereed several matches in the Escanaba tournament. Zale will handle all of the bouts on the opening night's program on Feb. 9 here.

Draft Hitting Michigan Stars

ANN ARBOR — (P) — The military draft, long a source of worry to collegiate coaches, has begun to have an effect on the University of Michigan campus.

Two Michigan track stars, Art Henrie and Russ Tuttle, have enlisted in the Army air force. Census is they are the first of many. Enlistments, with resultant choice of branch of service, may not be made after draft board notices have been received.

Henrie, veteran dash and jump man, and Tuttle, a sophomore high jumper of great reputation, were large factors in the expectations of coach Don Canham this winter.

Tuttle has already left the campus and Henrie will report for induction Feb. 1.

Swim Coach Matt Mann has felt it too. Jerry Jay, one of its most promising freshman swimmers, has dropped out to accept an appointment to the U. S. Naval academy.

Others either have or are about to report for draft physicals. Among them: Chuck Ortmann, star of Michigan's Rose bowl football squad; Don Dufek, his potent running mate, ends Les Popp and Harry Allis, guard Pete Kivnor and tackle Bill Ohlendorf.

Many are expected to be deferred until June, being seniors enrolled in school.

Waterfield, Graham Eye Star Battle

LOS ANGELES — (P) — Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams and Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns will take up here Sunday in the pro-bowl where they left off in the snow at Cleveland Christmas eve.

Two Michigan track stars, Art Henrie and Russ Tuttle, have enlisted in the Army air force. Census is they are the first of many. Enlistments, with resultant choice of branch of service, may not be made after draft board notices have been received.

Other Good passers.

A comparison over the season between the two is unfair because Waterfield shared passing duties with his teammate, Norman Van Brocklin, and the Dutchman from Oregon outpassed them both.

Van Brocklin, by the way, is on the National team, and is ready to step in when needed. And rounding out the passers, Stydahar has Johnny Lujack of the Chicago Bears and Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers.

Graham isn't alone, either what with Charlie Connerly of the New York Giants, Jim Hardy of the Chicago Cardinals, Harry Gilmer of Washington and Joe Geroni of Pittsburgh on hand to assist.

Basketball

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Brooklyn—Fred Monforte, 138, New York, awarded decision over Luis Ramos, 134, Puerto Rico. (Ramos disqualification for pushing referee at end of fourth round.)

Oklahoma A&M (14-0) nearly did, but came from behind to nip

Tulsa, 40-38, in a Missouri Valley game.

Long Island University (11-0), took it easy with Ithaca, 79-45.

(Middleweights, but weights un-available.)

Canadian Soo At Manistique On Saturday

MANISTIQUE—With four victories already recorded, the Manistique Emeralds will be seeking their fifth victim Saturday night when they tangle with the Canadian Soo five here.

The varsity game is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the high school gymnasium. A preliminary, starting at 7 p. m., will pit the seniors against the juniors.

Next Friday night Manistique will play away from home for the first time since Dec. 8, meeting Munising at Munising.

WHAM!—George Gee, 8, of the Red Wings is about to make a second and unpleasant contact, this one with the ice, after being checked hard by the Boston Bruins' Ed Kryzanowski at the Detroit Olympia.

Ezzard Charles Favored To Retain Title In Oma Fight

Reinforced Shamrocks Beat Kesslers, 59-43

The Escanaba Shamrocks, reinforced by Tom St. Germain, who came out of "retirement," and Bob DuFour, home from the air force, turned tables on Kesslers in a city league basketball game last night. The final score was 59 to 43.

St. Germain scored three field goals and 11 free throws to lead Shamrock scoring with 17 points. Tom Dutour had 15 and Brother Bob had 15. Jim Kessler and Don Lewis paced the losers with 16 and 11 points.

Andys of Bark River made a successful entry into the fast American league with an easy 61-46 win over Cloverland college. George LeBrasseur hit for six field goals and 11 free throws for top scoring honors with 23 points. For the losers Joe Friedgen got 16 points.

Clairmonts dumped Groos Drugs, 35 to 33, for the lead in the National league. Harold Cloutier and Don Ohman got 16 and 14 points for the winners while John Hirn hit for 14 for the losers.

At a special meeting called by National league president Ford Frick, it was decided to establish an agency to supervise such radio activity.

The National league office in this city will act as an agent for the clubs in handling radio broadcasts of games "outside major league territory." Under this system, requests from stations outside major league areas will be turned over to the league office by the various clubs. The agency will be supplied with each club's rates.

The National league officials also decided that no club will win the pennant because of bad weather. The 1951 season will be extended a day if any final scheduled game, involving the pennant, is washed out. The rule doesn't hold in case of ties for any other position.

Charles, who has won his last 21 fights, 14 of them by knockouts, appeared to be in the best shape of his life when he ended his training yesterday.

His September triumph over Joe Louis has boosted his confidence and has made him a better fighter.

Oma's Stamina Questioned

The big question is Oma's stamina or lack of it. The handsome challenger, fourth-ranking heavy in the world, never has gone beyond 10 rounds. He really has trained for his first title shot like never before. But it's doubtful that one long training grind can make up for years of dissipation.

Oma has won 16 of his last 17 starts, losing on a knockout to Bob Satterfield. He made up for that loss by outpointing Satterfield in a return match. His overall record shows 62 victories, 26 losses and three draws. He has kayoed 28 opponents but has suffered 15 knockouts himself in an in-and-out career.

BILLIARD MEET

CHICAGO—(P)—Nine state and tourney champions open a four-day round-robin sectional three-cushion billiards tournament Sunday. The winner will advance to the world championship meet here Feb. 16-25.

NORMAL FIVE WINS

VPSILANTI — (P) — Michigan State Normal defeated 75 to 67 Central Michigan in conference basketball conference game last night.

Sanity Code Foes Gain Strength

DALLAS — (P) — The National Collegiate Athletic association may be stripped today of its sanitary code governing financial aid to athletes.

A bloc of schools, headed by the Southern, Southeastern and Southwest conferences, will attempt to take enforcement of the code out of the hands of the

Bradley's Win Streak Ended

NEW YORK—(P)—If Madison Square Garden fell apart, Coach Forrest Anderson is one man who probably wouldn't cry.

Two seasons running now, his Bradley basketball five has come to the big barn with extra-long winning streaks and the No. 1 ranking in the country only to meet defeat.

St. John's snapped a 15-game Bradley string last night. The Brooklyn five upset the favored Braves, 68-59, in a rough-and-tumble battle to make it season mark 11 wins.

A 14-game Bradley string fell last March before in the National invitation tournament.

Bradley ace Gene Melchiorre didn't score a field goal last night.

Two other high-ranking teams didn't go the way of Bradley.

Oklahoma A&M (14-0) nearly did, but came from behind to nip

Tulsa, 40-38, in a Missouri Valley game.

Long Island University (11-0), took it easy with Ithaca, 79-45.

Illness Is Fatal To U. M. Regent

Head Of Kalamazoo Paper Firm Dies

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—(AP)—Death has ended the career of Ralph A. Hayward, Kalamazoo industrialist and regent of the University of Michigan.

The 55-year-old president of the Kalamazoo vegetable parchment company died yesterday in University hospital. Surgery was performed Jan. 3 in an effort to relieve a brain pressure condition. Hayward had been ill several months.

At the time of his death he also was a Kalamazoo college trustee, chairman of the Michigan State Highway advisory board, a member of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. board and a director of the First National Bank of Kalamazoo, the Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis and the Sutherland Paper Co. of Kalamazoo.

Hayward started his university post in 1943 and his term would have expired at the end of this year.

Hayward's death "deprived the University of Michigan of a wise and understanding friend," Michigan President Alexander G. Ruthven said.

"He combined the loyal interest of an alumnus and former faculty member with the keen judgment of a successful industrial executive," Ruthven added.

Drew Pearson Used Secret Messages; Army Investigates

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army said today the Drew Pearson column of Dec. 30 contained "quoted excerpts from classified (secret) messages," and an investigation is being made.

In a letter to Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), Secretary of the Army Pace also said the matter is being submitted to the judge advocate general of the army. The judge advocate general is the army's top legal officer.

Pace made the letter public. McCarthy had demanded to know whether material in the Pearson column was in fact quoted from secret messages as Pearson said. McCarthy said in Senate speech last week that if Pearson had quoted secret messages he had given aid to foreign countries in efforts to break U. S. codes.

Pearson replied at the time that he had been told by "The Pentagon" that it was all right for him to use the messages if he changed dates and altered a few words.

Pearson told the Senator the whole matter is being "actively investigated."

Those fined for moving violations were Gerald LeDuc of 1515 Washington avenue, $5 for not having an operator's license; Joanne DeLaire, 319 North 15th street, $2 for running a red light; Earl Kell of Powers, $1 for making a U-turn; Theodore W. ## Allied Guns Oust Reds From Hills In Wonju Sector

drawal route for the Eighth Army toward the old Pusan beachhead.

Brisk fighting swirled north and west of Tanyang, a rail terminal 37 miles southeast of Wonju.

The Communists set up their roadblock near Ochi, a town on the main road between Tanyang and Chungju 22 miles to the west.

They poured fire on Allied vehicles as they carry supplies to the Second division farther north.

Allied patrols rushing out to clear the supply road ran into road mines. Then the Reds attacked.

Flank In Danger

Another vanguard patrol of the Communist flanking force tangled with Allied troops northeast of Tanyang.

The Eighth Army did not report the results of either skirmish. It reported there were at least 1,000 Red troops along the Tanyang-Chungju highway.

A. P. Correspondent William Barnard reported from the front that there were two full North Korean divisions—the sixth and 10th—in the force that slipped around the eastern flank of the Second division. Sizable elements of the force were reported 10 miles south of Chechon and only three miles north of Tanyang.

A. P. Correspondent Don Huth at Eighth Army headquarters reported this deep-thrusting Communist force threatened the Allied right flank and menaced the important network of roads leading south in that area.

If Tanyang should fall, an important retreat route for Allied troops would be lost. There is only one other road available to the hard-fighting Second division doughtboys if they are forced to retreat from their exposed position near Wonju.

Seaway Essential

Mr. Truman said that in terms of manpower our present defense targets are "very substantially short of the requirements imposed by full-scale war," but still will call for an increase of nearly 1,000,000 men and women in the armed forces within a few months and probably not less than 4,000,000 more in defense production by the end of the year.

Mr. Truman said the country must plan to increase its electric generating capacity "by well over 20 million kilowatts during the next three years" with a major share of the expansion coming from private utility enterprises.

He said he was recommending the development of additional public power capacity "in the Pacific Northwest, in the Tennessee Valley area, at Niagara Falls, along the St. Lawrence river and elsewhere, to contribute needed additions to the power supply as quickly as they can be built."

The president said this country "should start at once on the St. Lawrence seaway and power project, so that imported iron ore can be shipped efficiently by water to the great steel producing centers of the Middle West."

Burden On Industry

He said the project was vital for this purpose as well as to provide new power.

Spending on national security—including foreign aid, atomic energy and stockpiling—will take 18 per cent of the nation's total production by the year end, as against the seven per cent now being used up in this way, the president predicted.

Not only must civilian plants be diverted to munitions, he went on, but new mine, mill and factory capacity must be created.

"We must put heavy restraints upon nonessential business activity. The total supply of consumer goods cannot be increased this year, and many types of goods must be sharply curtailed. x x x," he said.

The president deplored the swift rise in wholesale prices by 15½ per cent and the climb of consumer prices by six per cent—most of it since the invasion of Korea.

"If inflation continues to gain cumulative force, it will multiply the cost of the defense program," he warned.

To fight inflation, demand must be held down until supplies can catch up. This is why we must have a stringent stabilization program. It will mean sacrifices for everybody."

Washington Sure Of Peace In 1951

War II counterpart, the War Production Board, for the time it has been in existence.

Minority Disagrees

If that is the Washington "climate," there is a minority that disagrees, violently. A two-star general said he thought war in Europe was certain, this spring. Other officials are guessing an ever earlier date.

There are two lines of reasoning in this:

1. That the Russians will not hold still while a joint European army is being formed under Eisenhower, and long enough for the American program of rearmament to be fulfilled.

2. That there is no further point or country in Europe now where the Russians can move without precipitating the big war. Yugoslavia is considered a serious danger area.

The counters, however, are these:

1. The European force, if and when it reaches the immediately unlikely figure of 100 divisions, will still be far too small to constitute a menace to the Soviet Union. It might be a fairly effective holding force, for defense, but much too small for offense. (The Nazis attacked Russia with 240 divisions, most of them combat-trained.)

2. The Soviet Union is not under any compulsion to rack up new gains in Europe. She is doing very well in the Far East.

Strategy Up In Air

The U. N. reverses in Korea, in fact, probably could be described as a "baby Pearl Harbor," in terms of their effect on Washington thinking. The economy philosophy has sunk without a trace.

In Congress and in government, generally, there is a sense of the need for action. Businessmen who are in Washington now say that what they want is "too be told what to do."

Longer Hours Encouraged

The heavier taxes, he said, "will make it harder for everybody."

"But for any group to seek to adjust its income upward, to counteract the higher taxes which the defense program is making necessary, would tend to relieve that group from its share in the cost of achieving national security."

On the manpower front the president said that "industry hiring standards are being reviewed, to provide suitable jobs for workers" and additional shifts and longer hours in some defense industries "are being encouraged."

He added: "Arrangements are being made to protect the pension and seniority rights of workers who shift to defense jobs."

He asked for an improvement in the unemployment insurance system to provide better protection for workers who leave their communities to take defense jobs in other states.

Stronger rent control authority

International pacts governing the supply of vital materials, and extension of export control.

Credit control over existing houses as well as new dwellings.

But the major emphasis was on the president's budget-balancing tax program.
